r.o.a., 2012
Intervention in mooon, a publication edited by Giancarlo Norese & Luca Scarabelli.

Residents in the United States plant American Flags in the wake of disasters as a patriotic symbol of hope.

On Earth there had been some discussion as to whether it was appropriate to plant the flag on the moon at all.

Armstrong has said that he personally did not think that any flag should have been left, but decided it wasn't worth making a big deal about.

